

Class R Boats Race Tomorrow In Trial Meet

Class R boats will have their first work-out of the season tomorrow afternoon when they will race over a new course laid out off Summerville by the Rochester Yacht Club. The Rogue, M. E. S., Mybar, and Safara will line up for this event at 3 o'clock and according to indications a large fleet of power boats will carry members and friends out to see the race.

The race will merely be a practise race and will not count in the season's standing. The first official race will be staged Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock and on every Sunday following.

Included in the rather elaborate program of Saturday's events are water stunts in the river off the club's boathouse such as out-board motor races, rowing races etc. A dinner dance in the evening will conclude the day's entertainment.

The Buffalo Canoe Club announced that Commodore Thomas Parsons of the Rochester Yacht Club has been selected as one of the judges in the third invitation series of races to be sailed by crews from Rochester, Larchmont and Buffalo in Lake Erie Victory Class Sloops of the Buffalo Canoe Club fleet off Buffalo June 7, 8 and 9. Herbert L. Stone, editor of Yachting, and E. G. Anderson of the Larchmont Yacht Club are the other judges selected.
