

SKIPPER AND WIFE—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kallberg are shown aboard the Iskareen, in which Mr. Kallberg, as skipper, will sail tomorrow in the Canada Cup Race against Toronto's Venture II. Iskareen is owned by Herbert Wahl.

YOUNGSTOWN VISITORS—Frequent guests at the Rochester Yacht Club are the two couples in the 6-Meter. From left they are Mrs. S. Clarke Cassidy Jr., her husband, the skipper, standing, and Fred Obershelmer and Mrs. Obershelmer. Mrs. Cassidy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peck Curtis of Elmwood Ave.

A SAFE HAVEN—The Basin at the Rochester Yacht Club is filled with all sizes and sorts of craft—from dinghies to long sailboats. Tall masts against the sky and a blue lake make a picture every sailor likes whether he is a boat owner himself or not.

Canadians Guests

Yacht Club Plans Regatta Tea

This weekend waters off the Port of Rochester are as crowded as Main and Clinton Streets during the pre-Christmas rush.

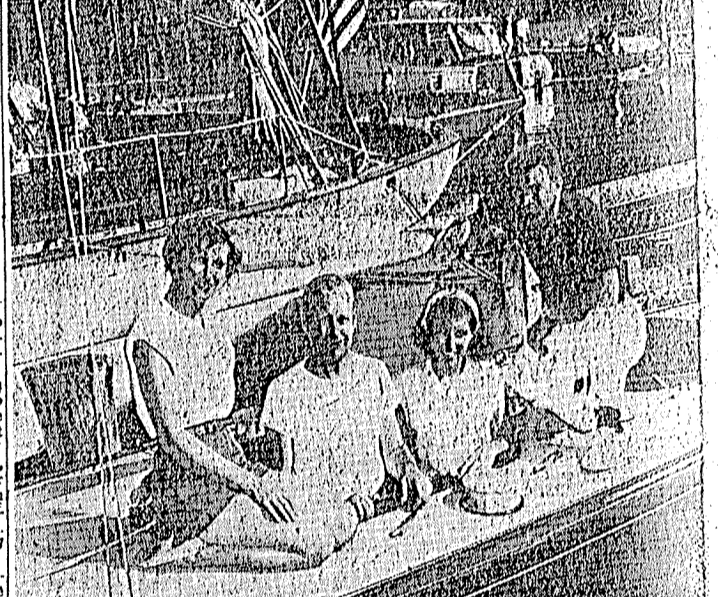

The big regatta at Rochester Yacht Club draws boats from many ports. Six and eight meters, Stars, Lightnings and Dragons will be there to wait for that exciting moment when the gun sounds, the sails fill and pinoculars train on contestants for the Canada Cup.

Wives, sisters and daughters of club members are occupied with hospitality duties, although they, too, are part of the waterborne audience and many of them will hold a party alongside their menfolk.

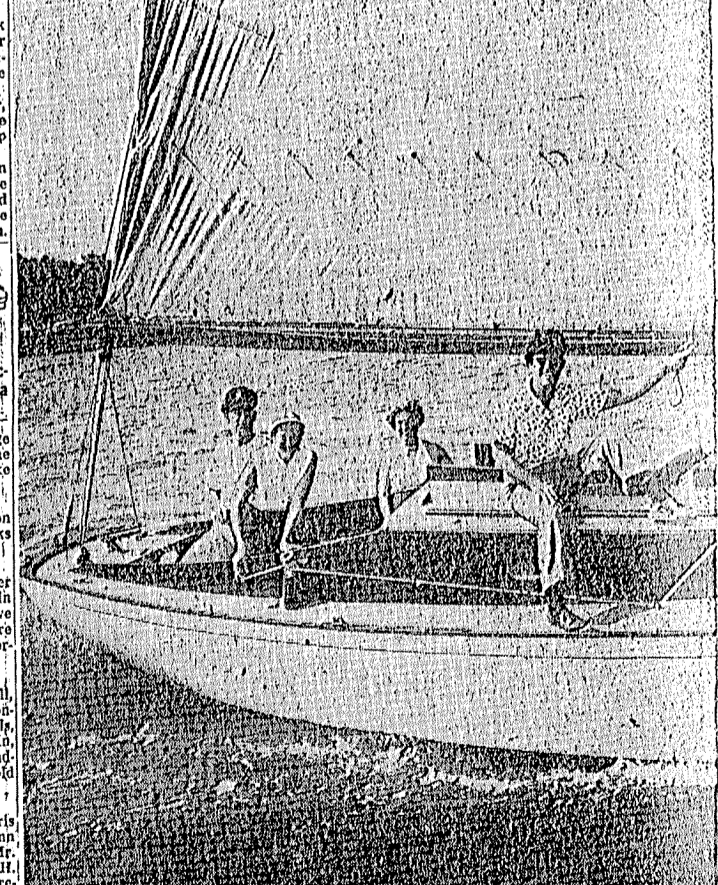

The biggest event that the women of RYC have under way tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock is the regatta tea. It will be one of the major events of many years, for the regatta will bring boats from ports on both sides of the lake and the Canadians will be guests of honor.

Mrs. Howard Rogers is chairman of the tea and Mrs. Jonathan Hefford and Mrs. Willmot V. Castle will pour. All the members of the women's group of the club, of which Mrs. Kenneth Savage is president, will have a part in the undertaking.

Mrs. Randall Beecher is hospitality and publicity chairman. Mrs. William Straub is in charge of floral arrangements, and Mrs.

BACK FROM A SAIL—Aboard the 6-Meter Starwagon are, left to right, Mrs. Joseph Ingerson (skipper), Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kuske and Mr. Ingerson, owner.

SLOOP: WINDLASSIE—Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Savage, owners, have with them two friends, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Beecher. All are enthusiastic, expert sailors.
